QUALITY GUARANTEES - Why choose Granpol for cleaning projects?

Below we present the most important criteria and quality guarantees that support our competence in solving complex cleaning tasks.

1. We work together with carefully selected, reliable staff

We develop a stable, experienced and motivated cleaning staff, on which we build the long-term quality of the service. We strive to employ a workforce with a OKJ degree in cleaning. Occasional work is carried out by our special cleaning team, which specializes in these tasks and has special equipment and training.

2. We provide training for our employees

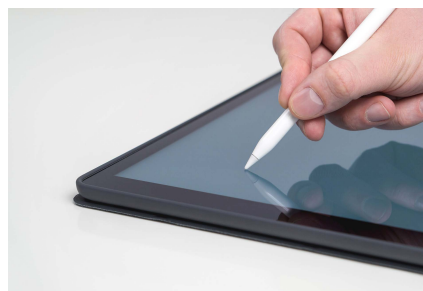

After hiring, all employees are given basic training before starting work, and only then can they start working. We provide further training and courses for the most motivated. We also enable them to develop professionally and progress within the organization.

3. We organize a satisfied cleaning team

Wage levels play a key role in the implementation of a successful cleaning service. We provide our employees who manage and perform their work on site with an income that is competitive in the current job market, to provide a workforce with the right attitude to carry out the task, with which we can plan for the long term. When employing our employees, we adhere to the rules of legal and ethical employment as far as possible.

4. We take care of our customers

We use a clear, official route. We do not involve a subcontractor in the performance. We strive to discuss the status of the service and current tasks in regular meetings with our customers. The performance of the service will be evaluated in meetings as required by the Customer's management and Granpol's business unit and team leader.

5. We employ expert, experienced managers

In the organizational structure of Granpol Kft., the levels of responsibility have been designed so that decisions are made at the level where most information is available and where implementation is ensured.

6. Well organized systems and precision are our basic principles

The following documents form the basis of the cleaning service, which ensures that the quality of a given service can be maintained on a permanent basis and does not deviate from the level specified in the contract.

6.1 Technical content and schedule:

Based on the cleaning order and technical specifications, as well as the frequency of cleaning, we prepare a detailed (divided by building, room) daily cleaning schedule of the cleaning posts, in which we describe in detail the tasks to be performed and the cleaning schedule. In the schedule, it is possible to follow when the cleaning of each room is due on the days of the week, resp. what work processes are performed during cleaning.

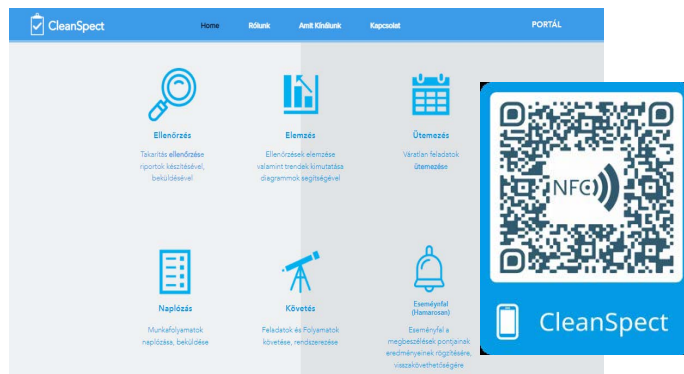

6.2 System of technological instructions:

In order to ensure the professional and uniform quality of the work, our company has developed technological instructions, which we adapt to the cleaning site.

7. We make continuous monitoring and evaluation

Granpol Kft. uses an electronic quality control system to check the daily cleaning.

CleanSpect software is a cloud-based service; digitally logs the work of the cleaners (the start time of the work is recorded) and the results of the inspection of the cleaned areas are also recorded in this system. The quality control reports and the evaluation system allow the customers to follow the results of the inspections carried out in their territory in real time.

8. We operate quality management system

In order to achieve our goals, the company is committed to the introduction, operation and continuous development of an integrated management system in accordance with the MSZ EN ISO 9001: 2015 and MSZ EN ISO 14001: 2015 standards.

9. We guarantee

We assume full liability for material and non-material damage caused by our employees. Our company has a liability insurance worth 50 million HUF/year and 25 million HUF/occasion.
